Tax Exempt Status
The Chapter is legally defined as a non-profit organization. Our Employer Identification Number (EIN), 04-3536062, exempts the organization from federal and state taxes on purchases or services.

Chapter Vouchers

1. Any Standing Committee, Special Interest Group or other Chapter group planning a program with revenue or expenses exceeding $500, with program fees greater than $20.00, or payment of a speaker honorarium, must prepare a budget and have advanced approval of such program from the Board for date, cost, and fees. The budget must be submitted to the Board not less than twenty-one (21) days prior to the event. Presenting the budget at the Board meeting is preferable, but if not possible, please send budget proposal to the Board list for discussion and request vote for approval.

2. A committee or SIG chair who has permission to incur expenses may either request monies in advance or reimbursement after the expenditure.

3. All requests for advances or reimbursement should be submitted to the President (or the person delegated to receive such requests) on the appropriate Chapter form. Instructions should be clear as to whom the payment is to be made. (Forms are provided by the Chapter’s Treasurer.)

4. Requests for reimbursement must include original receipts.

5. The President (or delegate) countersigns vouchers and sends them to the Treasurer for payment.

6. Reimbursements to the President should be countersigned by another officer of the Chapter.

Guidelines For Chapter-Sponsor Relationships (0402)

The Chair of any Chapter program may, with the prior consent of the ACRL/NEC Board, solicit financial subsidies from vendors for such program-related activities as, for example: coffee breaks, wine and cheese social hours, wine with dinner, cocktail parties, packet contents (i.e., the packet cover, pens/pencils, notepads), posting of menus of restaurants in the Conference area, etc.

The sponsoring vendor may be offered any or all of the following as acknowledgement of financial support of the Chapter:

- Printed acknowledgement in the final program,
- Verbal acknowledgement during the program,
- Posting of one poster supplied by the vendor,
- Inclusion of a single brochure/leaflet/broadside in the program packet or for pick-up from a display table,
- Vendor’s logo on packet material supplied by vendor.

For donations of $200 and above, sponsor will receive, in addition, one free conference registration.

Regardless of who makes the first contact with a sponsor, it is the responsibility of the Program Chair to confirm in writing with the sponsor before the program the estimated cost of the sponsorship and the types of acknowledgement of sponsorship the Chapter will provide, and to arrange with the caterer or any other provider of goods or services the appropriate manner of settling the final bills.
Guidelines For Chapter Cosponsorship Of Programs (0801)

The Chapter has been and is interested in working with other local and regional library organizations and academic libraries in the New England area on joint activities that foster the Chapter’s goals of professional development, networking, and the enhancement of academic librarianship. Over the years the Chapter Board has received many requests to support events or programs produced by other library professional organizations (see History of Meetings at pp. V:20+). The Chapter Board wishes to act wisely in aligning ACRL/NEC’s financial and personnel resources with the requests received.

The following are intended as guidelines and not as absolute rules.

Requests

Requests for cosponsorship should be made to the Chapter President. In cases where a State Representative is serving as liaison to an organization, requests for cosponsorship may be submitted to the State Representative.

Requests for cosponsorship should include the following information, where available:
- The dates, location, purpose, anticipated audience, and title of the event.
- The names of the cosponsor(s) and a contact person
- Information about proposed programming and/ or speakers

The President or State Representative may request such additional information as needed to assist in making a decision.

Criteria for Consideration When Selecting Cosponsorship Opportunities

- Appeal and usefulness of the program to needs and interests of Chapter members
- Benefit(s) to Chapter member from the cosponsorship. For example, will Chapter members be able to register at the same rate as the cosponsor’s members?
- Program content that might duplicate or compete with a Chapter or interest group program
- Timing of proposed program in relation to other Chapter events and programs. For example, would co-sponsoring a program near the time of the annual conference cause confusion as to which is the Chapter’s annual conference?
- Financial costs/benefits to the Chapter, including consideration of the Chapter’s annual budgetary planning and availability and priority of funding
- Availability of Board or Chapter members to provide requested support
- Possible impacts on relationships with other library organizations. For example, will cosponsorship favor one New England state organization over another: if Connecticut Library Association requests assistance, will we be able to offer an equal response to a similar request from the Vermont Library Association? Has the Chapter previously cosponsored programming with this organization?
Support that the Chapter May Provide

The Chapter may provide one or more of the following types of support:

- Financial contribution
- Program Development/Support – this may include suggesting topics and/or arranging for speakers. Programming assistance may be solicited from Chapter SIGs and/or general Chapter membership.
- Assistance with event logistics
- Advertising – generally through the ACRLNEC electronic mailing list and the Chapter website. Other methods may also be considered. The Chapter will not provide its mailing list to other organizations. (See p. III:5)
- Use of the Chapter’s name as a cosponsor

Decisions on Cosponsorship

- If the cosponsorship involves monetary support, the Board must review and approve a budget. The Board must also approve an agreement for how revenue above the costs of the program (or debts above costs covered by income) will be dispersed among cosponsoring organizations.
- If the cosponsorship does not involve monetary support, the Board will review, advise the President, and approve the co-sponsorship.
- The President will confirm in writing with the cosponsor before the program the funds and/or other services, if any, that the Chapter will provide, the type(s) of acknowledgement of cosponsorship the Chapter will receive, the registration fee applicable to Chapter members, and any other applicable arrangements.
  - The Chapter may request acknowledgement through one or more of the following ways:
    - Inclusion on print and electronic advertising
    - Printed acknowledgement in the final program
    - Verbal acknowledgement during the program
    - Inclusion of a single brochure/leaflet/broadside in the program packet or for pick-up from a display table
    - Display of the Chapter banner in a mutually agreeable location at the event
    - Inclusion in any print or electronic report issued following the program
- A member of the Board must be designated as a liaison to the cosponsoring organization.

Guidelines for Support of Chapter Representation at National Activities (0803)

The Board of Directors believes it is valuable to the Chapter to have a representative at selected national-level activities. These include ACRL Chapters Council at the ALA Annual and Midwinter Conferences (Bylaws, Article IV) and ALA’s National Library Legislative Day.
ACRL/NEC representatives at Chapters Council meetings in the early 2000s championed changes to ACRL guidelines that resulted in additional funds coming to the chapters from ACRL National and enhanced notification about membership information between ACRL National and the chapters.

Attendance at National Library Legislative Day activities allows for the representation of the interests of academic libraries as the attendee participates in advocacy and issue training sessions, interacts with Capitol Hill insiders, and visits congressional member offices to ask Congress to pass legislation that supports libraries.

To support these important functions, the Chapter will reimburse the cost of registration, round trip transportation, and up to two nights’ accommodations.

For one person to attend Chapter Council meetings at ALA Annual and Midwinter conferences and National Library Legislative Day, up to the maximum amount(s) for the next fiscal year as determined by the Board of Directors at its annual retreat in June.

It’s expected that the Chapter President or Vice President will attend the Chapter Council meetings and the Chapter’s ACRL Legislative Network Representative will attend the Legislative day, but in the event that is not possible, the Board may appoint another delegate to attend.

Transportation is expected to be at reasonable and economical rate and modes.

Accommodation rates are expected not to exceed the conference rate at ALA Annual and Midwinter conferences, although the attendee is not required to stay at a conference hotel. For Legislative Day, accommodations should not exceed the ALA rate.

Reimbursement will be made after submission of the appropriate forms and original receipts to the Treasurer.

Timeline Of ACRL Chapters - Funding And Reimbursement Deadlines (0402)

For many state/regional chapters of ACRL, the officers who submit funding requests are no longer in office when the approved funds for chapter activities become available. In effect, the new officers inherit the funding for a specific, described program their predecessors planned. There are several ways in which this awkwardness can be avoided. One approach is to have at least one of the officers submitting the funding request continue for the next ACRL fiscal year. Another is to have a separate, “program planning” committee operate on the ACRL fiscal year, with overlapping terms of office.

NB: The ACRL fiscal year runs from September 1 through August 31.

Nov. 1, 20XX
Deadline for Chapters Special Programming funding (COMPETITIVE). Awarding of funding is announced by mail to chapters in January of the following year, after the ALA Midwinter meeting. Approved funding is for programming to take place between September 1, 20XX+1 and August 31, 20XX+2.

Dec. 1, 20XX
Deadline for Regular Chapter funding (ALL CHAPTERS ELIGIBLE). Details for announcement of funding and programming dates are the same as for the Nov. 1 deadline above.

Dec. 1, 20XX
Deadline for New Chapter funding (ONLY CHAPTERS LESS THAN THREE YEARS OLD ARE ELIGIBLE) Details for announcement of funding and programming dates are the same as for the Nov. 1 deadline above.

Jan. 20XX+1
After the ALA Midwinter meeting, the awarding of funding is announced to chapters by mail.
Sept. 1, 20XX+1 through Aug. 31, 20XX+2
Approved funding announced in January is spent on through programming taking place during this ACRL fiscal year.

August 15, 20XX+2
Deadline for Requests for Payment or Reimbursement incurred during ACRL fiscal year Sept. 1, 20XX+1 to August 31, 20XX+2.

Guidelines For Use Of ACRL funds for Chapters (0606)
Per member Chapter funding exists to facilitate chapters’ ability to carry out their basic mission.

ACRL Chapters may spend budgeted resources on any items or activities that support the charitable and educational purposes of ACLR’s strategic goals as identified in the strategic plan with two exceptions:

1. The allotted funds may not be used for payment of honoraria or travel to support librarians’ presentations at ALA, ACRL, or ACRL chapter conferences, and
2. The allotted funds may not be used to purchase goods or services prohibited by ALA and ACRL policy.

Accountability for the expenditure of these funds lies with the Association of College and Research Libraries, not the state library associations. Reimbursement of expenses is handled in accordance with ACRL policies and procedures. Submit two copies of the Reimbursement Request form and original receipts, such as airline ticket passenger receipts, hotel bills, etc., to ACRL before August 15 of the current fiscal year.

Guidelines For Chapter Conference Planning (Vice-President) (1208)

Note carefully the Chapter calendar. Each conference requires considerable lead time for inviting speakers, presenting to the Board the dates, locations, and recommended fees; preparing, printing, mailing program registration, etc. Each stage benefits from advance thought and informal discussion to achieve high level content and well coordinated implementation. Issues and topics of concern to Chapter members must be carefully identified and input from Chapter officers and members continually solicited.

Note: Guidelines for SIG Program Planning are located at p. IV:10.

1. Set date and arrange location.
   a. Campus locations are generally preferred by the membership. An effort should be made to hold conferences in as wide a variety of geographic locations as is financially viable.
2. Recommend individuals for program committee(s) to the President. When letters of appointment have gone out from President, convene and chair committee or monitor closely the activities of the committee.
3. Ask Communications Committee Coordinators to be part of any conference program committee. Use Communications Committee Coordinators as resource for preparation of text, printing, distribution (special PR files as well as general membership) of press releases, announcements, registration forms, and write ups after the conference.
4. With committee, plan program and designate speakers; plan for local arrangements (conference rooms, luncheons, social hours, registration table, display tables, arrangements for taping, etc.) SEE “Discussion Guidelines on Honoraria” Manual, section I:11.
5. Prepare proposed budget for conference; present budget and recommendation for fee structure to Board no later than 4 months in advance of the conference. (Note Financial Information, I:10).
6. Invite speakers.
   a. Provide speakers with directions, programs, vouchers for requesting reimbursement.
   b. Solicit biographical information.

The committee was particularly active in the first decade of the Chapter's existence as Chapter experience suggested refinements required in the Constitution and Bylaws.

In March, 1993 the responsibility for updating the manual was transferred from the Past-President to the Constitution and Bylaws Committee.

Committee History Notes

In spring 2008, the chapter conducted a survey of the membership to determine the current interest level in existing and potential special interest groups (SIGs). Leadership and management was listed as a potential area and received significant interest from respondents. Rather than simply form a new SIG, the chapter president proposed developing a series of programs for early to mid-career librarians, paraprofessionals, and information technology professionals, in order to foster leadership development within our region. Those members attending the chapter’s leadership and management programs would form a cohort and go on to be the nucleus of the new SIG.

Several options for leadership development already exist within the region including the ACRL Harvard Leadership Institute, NELA’s New England Library Leadership Symposium, and the Library Leadership Massachusetts Institute. Each of these is a residential, multi-day (3.5 days to 6 days) program that is not accessible to all members because of the time or financial support required from the members’ institution. A series of single day or possibly two day programs offered over the course of a year with much of the cost subsidized by the chapter would be more accessible to members. Attendees may be individuals who are not necessarily in administrative or management positions but rather leading from various areas within organizations or individuals who are not currently in administrative or management positions but would like to move into that career path or are interested in becoming active in leadership positions within local, regional, or national professional organizations.

The task force was charged with identifying key learning outcomes for programs, identifying presenters or facilitators for programs, developing the structure of program offerings, determining size of program and selection criteria for participation (if any), identifying host sites for programs, developing and presenting a budget to the ACRL/NEC board for approval, and working with the chapter’s Continuing Education Committee to publicize and implement these programs.

A pilot program was held in April 2010 and feedback on this program indicated that there was sufficient interest to create additional programming. The Board voted to create an ad hoc Leadership Development Committee in August 2010 to continue this work. Two additional programs were held in 2011 and attendees were surveyed to determine both satisfaction with the workshops as well as future programming needs. The Leadership Development Committee became a standing committee in 2011.

Dissolution (0708)
There may come a time when a SIG appears to be no longer active or not to be meeting a current need of Chapter members. To ensure that any SIG dissolution is accomplished with due consideration and to allow adequate time for SIG members to respond if they desire, the following steps should be taken in any contemplated dissolution:

1. If there has been no activity or participation by a SIG for a one-year period, the Board of Directors will notify the SIG of possible dissolution.
   a. Activity may include programs, planning or other meetings by SIG officers or members, or the existence of a SIG chair.
   b. Participation shall include attendance at Board of Directors meetings by the SIG chair or designee and reports from the SIG to the Board.
   c. Notification may take the form of communications by the President to SIG members, announcements via the SIG mailing list and/or SIG webpage, if any, and/or the chapter listserv or newsletter, or such other means as determined by the Board or President.
   d. Notification shall include a specified time period within which activity or participation must occur in order for the SIG to continue in existence.
   e. The Board may make such additional notifications as it feels is necessary to accomplish its purpose.
2. If no activity or participation by the SIG occurs within the time specified by the Board, then the Board will assume that the SIG no longer meets members’ needs.
3. The Board will then vote as to the dissolution of the SIG. A 2/3 majority if the Board is required for dissolution. (Bylaws, Art. III, Sec. 8).

Guidelines for SIG Program Planning (1103)
NOTE: Guidelines for Chapter Conference Planning are located at p. II:8.

These guidelines represent what has been found to work well in planning programs and are meant to be a resource to SIG planners.

1. Planning Committee
   • Form a planning committee from interest group membership or other interested volunteers.
• Establish means of conducting your business, e.g. email, wiki, meetings after Board meetings, etc.
• Establish roles, responsibilities and timelines.

2. Date And Location
• Choose date for meeting, considering:
  o Other events already planned (consult Chapter’s Calendar of Events on website); likely weather conditions.
• Choose location for meeting, considering:
  o Proximity to likely audience; access to parking; ease of transportation for attendees and speakers; food/catering availability; cost (whenever possible use academic library contacts to obtain no-cost sites); anticipated attendance and room capacity.
• Notify Board of date and location as soon as you’ve determined them.

3. Theme And Speakers
• Establish the topic for the meeting.
• Consider if another SIG would be a logical co-sponsor, and make contacts as appropriate.
• Make prioritized list of potential speakers and contact them regarding interest and availability. Consider costs of “signing” speaker (see Budget and Finances below).
• Determine travel and funding requirements of speakers (see Guidelines RE: Honoraria & Reimbursements for Participating in Chapter Conference online in the Chapter Manual).
• Determine schedule of events.
• Write brief description of program and distribute on mailing lists, SIG web page, etc.

4. Contracts And Insurance
• Determine if host site requires a contract and if so, get copy and send to President for review and signature as soon as possible.
• NOTE: The Board does carry Liability Insurance. Some sites require proof of this, and/or to be named as co-insured. The President needs to know this so s/he can work with Board’s insurance agent to acquire additional insurance or arrange for notification.

5. Food
• Contact catering manager.
• Review menu options, prices and make selections.
• Determine schedule for placing order and final count notification.
• Establish billing and payment procedures (see Budget and Finances below).
• Inquire about attendee dietary restrictions and make accommodations.
6. Rooms, A/V, Logistics, Ada Compliance, Etc.
   - If possible, visit meeting site.
   - Determine audio and network requirements.
   - Consider arrangements for teleconferencing, blogging, etc.
   - Determine layout of seating, refreshments, registration, etc.
   - Consider ADA accessibility and inquire about attendee needs.
   - Plan for handouts, membership materials, etc.
   - Arrange for someone to take digital pictures of event.
   - Produce and place directional signs for day of event.

7. Budget And Finances (1208)
   - Prepare a budget:
     - Calculate costs for speakers (travel, lodging, honorarium, etc.), host site, A/V, supplies, food.
     - Calculate income from registration fees and/or portion of SIG allocation from Board (up to $1,000/year). Set registration fee with intent to at least recover costs of program.
   - Vendor sponsorship is always sought for annual conference. If seeking vendor sponsorship for SIG program, be mindful of priority for annual conference and consult with annual conference program planning chair (Vice President/President-Elect). (See Manual I:12 for chapter-sponsor relationships).
   - Notify the Board of any opportunities or discussions that arise concerning joint sponsorship or in-kind contributions. (See Manual I:13 for cosponsorship of programs).
   - If the anticipated revenue or expenses exceed $500 OR you intend to charge a registration fee of $20.00 or more, you must present a budget to the Board for approval at least twenty-one (21) days prior to the event. Presenting the budget at the Board meeting is preferable, but if not possible, please send budget proposal to the Board list for discussion and request vote for approval.
   - Prepare for advance payments or reimbursements:
     - If paying honoraria, get speaker’s social security number and mailing address.
     - Collect all original receipts/invoices for expenses.
     - Complete Request for Payment form - available online from Chapter Manual under Treasurer’s section. Sign form and send it with receipts to President for signature. President will then send it to Treasurer who will “cut the check” and send it to recipient.

Committee/SIG History Note

The Research Data Management Roundtables originated from three librarians in March of 2015 -- one sought to provide mentorship in the area, and two were working on an event and hoping to broadcast it to the local community. Early partners included the NNLM-NER professional education programmatic group. These laid the foundation for the Research Data Management Roundtables, a series of low-cost, small professional development events for New England-area librarians and data professionals. By 2017, only one of the founding members remained on the planning team. Seeking a way to better engage and empower the community, the planning committee submitted a special interest group proposal to the ACRL New England Chapter, as the organization is both New England based, and has a broad reach. The Research Data Management Special Interest Group was approved in November 2018.
